Foreword

August, 1964 sees the re-opening of Kecoughton High School, this time with three closses—sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Orientation in the auditorium for sophomores and tronsfer students storts the year's ossemblies for the fall semester.

As soon os the students settle in their homerooms and odjust to their new schedules, octivities start and extra-curriculor organizations begin to recruit members for another octive year. Throughout this book you will see the Warrior delegation working constantly to improve the school and to promote a spirit of pride in service.

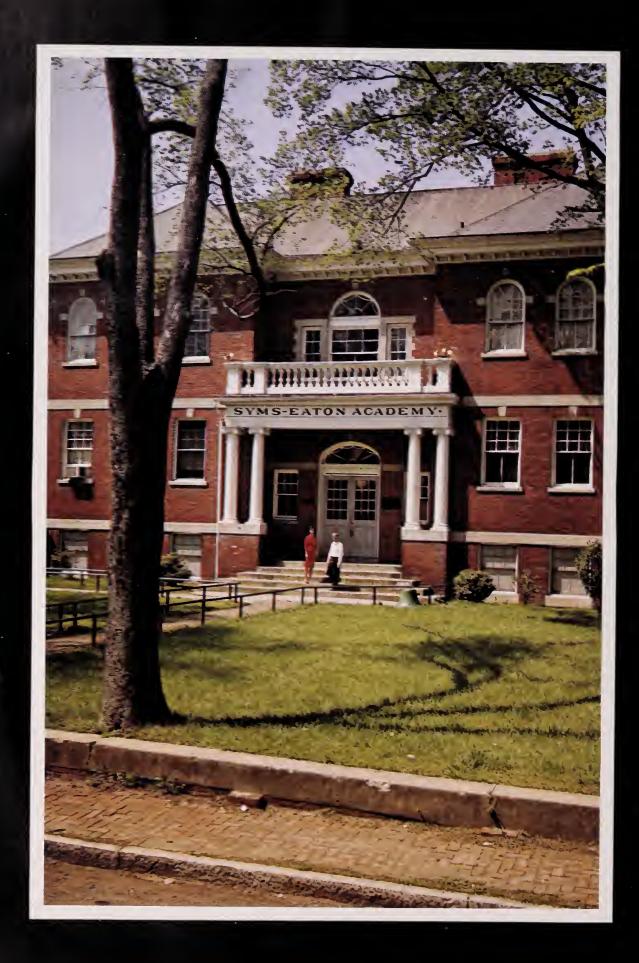

We submit this record to display the obilities, goals, and ochievements to which everyone contributed during the unforgettable year of 1964-1965.

The spotlight falls on this year's Senior Closs, but without the cooperation of the Juniors and Sophomores, the traditions and memories could not have been formed.

SCA President Sam Zeldner addresses the student body preceding the campaign speeches for next year's SCA officers.

Faculty and Administration

A vital part of the image of a school is its faculty. From a faculty and administrative staff of seventy to an organization of eighty-one is definitely an increase. This growth occurred because Kecoughtan High School had for the school year of 1964-1965 a student body representing three classes: sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The student increase amounted to five hundred seventy-seven, mainly sophomores.

Growth was evident in each department of the curriculum this year. The English department increased from nine faculty members to sixteen. Humanities, a class for advanced seniors, was presented for the first time at Kecoughtan. Calculus and honors math were added to the math department, which increased from five faculty members to eight.

Vocational office training and recording keeping were two new courses offered in the business department. The faculty membership of this department increased from five to eight. The science department was enlarged by the introduction of physics and advanced biology. Economics, personal finance, international relations, and government were offered in the social studies department. With the addition of these courses, two new methods of teaching were tried. Team teaching and student teaching were innovations this year in the English and the social studies departments.

Participation in extracurricular activities such as sponsoring clubs, coaching athletic teams, and chaperoning school dances, has given the faculty opportunities to promote school spirit throughout Kecoughtan.

As you glance through the following pages, notice those familiar faces who worked with you for your benefit. These individuals were dedicated in their efforts to provide Kecoughtan students with greater opportunities for practical and meaningful education.

School Board

With the guidance of Mr. C. Alton Lindsay, Superintendent of Schools, the Hampton School Board directs and supervises all the schools of the Hampton system. The high educational standards set by the School Board are the result of the Board's interest in providing quality education.

Decisions on the employment of teachers, administrative problems, salary questions, the school calendar, and student conduct are made by the School Board and Mr. Lindsay. Everpresent is the question of providing sufficient classrooms for a constantly growing population. Mr. Lindsay and the School Board face this problem yearly and work unceasingly to seek solutions to it. Possible new school sites, new plans and contracts for school construction, and architects' drawings are studied and approved by them.

Dedication and service to the community are the goals and aims of Mr. Lindsay and the School Board.

Principal

As the administrative head of a relatively new schaal, Mr. Edward Szetela is kept busy. He represents the school at P.T.A. meetings, educational conferences, and other related groups. Addressing civic organizations and the student bady calls far Mr. Szetela ta be prepared with data and information at all times. Faculty meetings and schaol assemblies present ather appartunities for Mr. Szetela to became better acquainted with his ca-warkers and students.

The arganizational efforts which are necessary to establish a new school have been an additional burden for him. No amount of profise would be too great for the manumental tasks Mr. Szetela performs so efficiently.

Assistant Principals

Mr. Henry C. Bowers is the assistant principal and dean of boys. In these roles he directs many administrative programs. In the absence of Mr. Szetela, he assumes the responsibilities of principal. Administrative tasks involve such complex problems as the selling of student insurance and the supervision of the federal survey program.

As dean of boys, he is responsible for the discipline of the boys, and the issuing of excuses for tardiness and absenteeism.

As part of his extracurricular activities, he sponsors the varsity basketball team.

Students who know Mr. Bowers as a coach, dean, or assistant principal, respect and admire him for so very capably fulfilling his responsibilities.

Mrs. Eylese M. Latham holds the title of dean of girls. She has the responsibility of counseling and guiding those girls who have personal problems. Her daily routine includes the checking of tardies and absentees.

In addition to her daily rountine, she is engaged in many of the extracurricular activities of the senior class. As the sponsor of the senior class, she co-ordinates such functions as the senior prom, college night, class night, and baccalaureate. Under her supervision, these activities run smoothly and efficiently.

Both the students and the faculty are grateful to Mrs. Latham for the counseling and guidance services, and the assistance in extracurricular activities she gives to Kecoughtan High School.

Guidance

The Guidance Counselors are an important part of Kecoughtan's administrative personnel. In our guidance department each class has its own individual counselor. Mrs. Moore Counsels the seniors, Mrs. Ennis the juniors, and Mr. Kilbourne the sophomores. These counselors work with the students to provide them with schedules suited to their vocational abilities and aspirations.

When the sophomores enter high school, the guidance counselors advise them on the subjects which would be most profitable to them during the following years.

Many seniors as well as juniors find it convenient to get information from their counselors about their credits, and the colleges they plan to attend. A record of all the credits each students earns is kept by the guidance counselors so they can provide such information about credits.

Direction of the many testing programs is yet another service performed by the Guidance Office. These programs include college boards and scholarship eligibility examinations.

The careful and helpful planning of the guidance counselors make high school years valuable to the student and his future.

Mrs. Ennis, Mr. Kilbourne, and Mrs. Moore discuss vorious testing programs.

Shoron Cole always finds Mr. Kilbourne ready to onswer questions.

Administrative Assistants

Na school, business, or industry can operate smoothly and effectively without capable emplayees behind the scenes. The secretarial staff of Kecoughtan High School is certainly an efficient and layal ane.

Under the guidance of and thraugh the arganizational efforts of Mrs. Elizabeth Caak, the Main Office ca-ardinates the routines necessary to the efficient operation of a large secondary school. Callege transcripts and class schedules are the responsibility of Mrs. Caak. She is also the ca-sponsar of the senior class, and orders announcements, calling cards, and class rings for the students.

Mrs. Anita McKinley serves as receptionist and secretary for the Main Office. She performs the routine duties cannected with affice procedures and serves as a link between administration, faculty, and students.

The baokstare is Mrs. Helen Atwell's center af aperation. She directs the sales af schaal supplies to students and faculty, and issues textbooks. Another service she performs far the faculty is the typing af stencils far tests which are to be mimeographed.

Mrs. Naami Snaidman and the IBM machine handle the heavy burden af arranging students schedules, tallying absentees, and issuing report cards.

Certainly without this team of dedicated workers Kecoughtan's operation would be more difficult and less efficient.

Processing IBM cords keeps Mrs. Snaidmon constantly busy.

Mrs. Atwell occepts wampum for Worrior purchose.

Books, magazines, records, films, and audio-visual equipment come from the Kecoughtan library to help the students gain knowledge in many subject fields. Miss Spain and Mrs. Brockley co-ordinate the numerous services of the library so efficiently that it functions smoothly at all times.

Reference books, out-dated magazines, and pamphlets are available in the reference rooms for the use of the students and the teachers. Classes in the use of the library are taught yearly to the sophomores by the librarians. Miss Spain and Mrs. Brockley also train students as library aides and teach many of the boys to operate the various kinds of audio-visual equipment.

Certainly the students and faculty have the right to be proud of the library, its librarians, and its equipment and contents.

Because English is the basic element in a school curriculum, Kecoughtan offers a variety of courses designed to meet the needs and ambitions of its entire student body. The English classes offer work in grammar, essays, short stories, novels, poems, and plays. This department, with Mrs. Elizabeth Woodard as chairman, provides regular, college preparatory, and advanced courses in English.

Mrs. Woodard and Mrs. Lee Robinson co-operated in a team teaching program. This innovation proved very successful for both teachers and students. A special class in Humanities was introduced this year under the supervision of Miss Gayle Lemmond. The course offers an introduction to philosophic thinking as related to art, science, and philosophy itself.

The Drama course, with Mr. Johnny Meadows as instructor, provides the students with a knowledge of stage techniques and terminology, and practice in acting. Other courses offered in this department as electives are Speech and Journalism. These classes provide students with opportunities to learn public speaking techniques, and to produce a newspaper.

Faculty and students take pride in the quality and variety of subject material offered in the Language Arts department.

Industrial Arts

Introduction of new ideas and practices has marked this second year of operation for the Kecoughtan Industrial Arts program. Mr. Harvey Grady has initiated welding and shop theory into his classes and introduced new equipment into the shops. The collection of books and magazines for a library for shop students has been one of his key projects for this year. The drafting students, under the instruction of Mr. Claude White, become skilled for positions in the architectural and engineering fields. Mr. David Rogers teaches the students the art of wood craftsmanship.

Drafting, wood, and metal shops are the three components of the Industrial Arts program. Mr. Mike Riddick is the chairman of the department. Shop students become quite proficient and skilled and produce such items as tables, tools, and car parts. The pride in personal workmanship and quality that is developed through these courses is not soon forgotten or abandoned.

The mathematics curriculum at KHS is widely diversified to meet the varied needs and demands of the school's many students.

General math and consumer math prepare students to apply their mathematical knowledge to the practical problems of daily living.

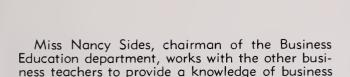

Supplementary courses are useful to all students, especially those college-bound ones. These courses include two years of algebra, plane and solid geometry, calculus, and honors math. The honors math course combines several of the above into a briefer length of study for the superior student. This course is supplemented in one class by educational television programs.

The grophing of geometry equations sometimes presents problems to Mr. Perrell's students.

These courses are co-ordinated to provide a well-balanced and harmonious program. Students, upon completion of the business education course, are prepared to advance to the challenges that the business world offers, and are ready to become the business leaders of tomorrow.

Studies

Personal finance, economics, and government are three new courses which have been added to the Social Studies department this year. The United States history, world history, and geography have been maintained for the junior and sophomore sections.

An innovation, team teaching, has been introduced by Mr. Grover Johnson and Mrs. Ann Apperson in the government course. The government classes are organized to include such activities as mock elections, congresses, and trials. A study of the nature of communism is incorporated into the classes to enable the seniors to contrast the communist and democratic systems of government.

Other social studies classes feature debates, panel discussions, and current event analyses. Mr. Bell's history classes have subscribed to an educational program offered by the New York Times.

Mr. William Greene and Mr. Homer Cuddy are responsible for supplying the boys with a physical education program. Participation in the physical education program enables the boys to increase their skills, and arouses their interests in extracurricular activities of an athletic nature.

Wrestling, tumbling, basketball, football, and tennis are the physical activities in which the boys may participate. These sports improve muscle reflexes and co-ordination abilities. An educational program designed to improve mental alertness, health habits, and good sportsmanship is a part of the physical education curriculum also.

This program further extends the goal of education, to develop well-rounded personalities in the students and to enlarge their areas of interest.

Coach Croft instructs wrestling to porticiponts of the physical education class.

Tennis techniques ore tought by Mr. Brown.

Doily exercises play on important port in the boys' gym closses.

Education

Mrs. Murphy ond Mrs. Thompson hove the responsibility of presenting o progrom that will benefit the girls physically and mentally. Through the activities offered, the girls learn better co-ordination and grow stronger. A progrom in personal hygiene and one centered around civil defense compose the educational unit.

Energetic and vigorous sports charocterize the unit devoted to the physical activities. Track and field events in the first six weeks prepare students for physical fitness tests in the fall. Other grading periods are devoted to modern dance, field hockey, basketball, tumbling, volleyball, and softball.

A desire to acquire and to maintain physical fitness and to practice proper personal hygiene doily, are the personal goals offered as challenges to each girl. Mrs. Phyllis Murphy and Mrs. Mary Thompson have made physical education both healthful and pleasurable.

Other than the traditional concepts of painting and sketching there are such diverse fields as ceramics, mosaics, and glass work offered. The art classes fill several display cases with their products, and prepare posters and signs for school organizations and activities.

Mrs. Katherine Lucas' contribution to the Fine Arts department is instruction in homemaking. She teaches her students the many skills of maintaining an attractive home and a happy family. Child care, home planning, serving, and cooking are only a few of the topics which are thoroughly studied and practiced.

Mr. Villers' ort closses provide ottroctive mosoics which are an enjoyable sight to the students of Kecoughton.

Mr. William Barley and Mrs. Jean Curtis together work many long and hard hours to provide musical entertainment for the community, and various civic clubs, as well as for Kecoughtan High School. The band, under the direction of Mr. Barley, plays for students at pep rallies, concerts, and assemblies and also appears in local parades. The band sends many participants to local and state competitions where they ably represent the talented students of KHS. Two Kecoughtan band students are to tour Europe with the All Student U.S.A. during the summer.

As chorus director, Mrs. Jean Curtis leads A'Cappella Choir, Girls' Chorus, and Mixed Chorus. Because of the many hours of practice that both Mrs. Curtis and her students put into their work, their presentations are always a pleasure for the audience. This is testified to by the constant request for their appearance before various groups as well as the reception they receive at school performances and concerts. The Kecoughtan choral groups also had several candidates chosen for All-State Chorus.

Science

Physics and physiology are the two new branches of study which have been added to the science department curriculum this year. Mrs. Gail Russell, chairman of the department, teaches physiology to a selective group of college preparatory students. This course provides the students with an advanced knowledge of human anatomy. Physics is taught by Mr. Robert Cronau. This course consists of studies in the changes of matter and energy.

A clean and healthy environment for student and faculty studies and activities is the goal of the custodial department. Mr. Lemuel Revels heads a staff of hard workers who perform the many necessary "clean-up" tasks about the school. Classrooms, work shops, the gymnasium, and the auditorium, as well as many other facilities are kept sparkling clean. Providing fresh towels for gym classes and clean uniforms for athletes also fall into the services performed by the custodians. A grateful student body and faculty reflect the praises due to the custodians.

Classes

The three classes of students which supply the school spirit of Kecaughtan High School are introduced in this section. It is we students who must keep the life of the school active and thriving. We have been guided and the paths have been apened to us, but it is we who must carry through to the goals ance they are known. Such guidance ollows us to learn from early experience what is to be expected of us later in life and how we should react when responsibilities are placed before us.

Being intraduced to high schaal life was quite an adjustment far the saphomares. Orientatian was held in August far the saphamare class and ather students wha were transferring to Kecoughtan. Eventually class officers were chosen to lead the saphamores toward their gools. A school-wide paper drive, sponsored by the sophamares was held to start the occumulation of necessary funds. Two firsts far the sophamares as well as for Kecaughtan were the donation of a Victory Flag, and the selection of JV cheerleaders salely from the sophamare class

Competition between the classes encaurages the students ta make their class shine whether it concerns cantributions taward a cammunity project ar within the schaal. The classes taak part in an SCA canned food drive at Christmas. The drive was a cantest between the closses to see which class cauld donate more canned faad, the prize tabe the "Spirit Jug". The saphomore class won and taak passessian af the treasured "Jug". This type af rivalry encaurages the students ta take on interest in ond ta participate in schaal activities. A "Warrior License Plate Sale" was spansared by the junior class to raise maney far the first Juniar Ring Dance. The Ring Dance, held at the Hotel Chamberlin, proved tabe a complete success, much ta the delight of all thase wha worked so very diligently an the planning and decoroting for the dance.

Kecoughtan's seniar class helped organize SCA ond seniar class cammittees to cover the wide orroy of school activities. This is Kecoughtan's first year in group 1-A sparts competition. It is believed that the depth and experience gained from this year's athletic competitions will prove to be rewarding for oll of KHS. Several of the Warriar athletes achieved outstanding awards in their respective fields.

Outstonding porticipation of the students daes nat begin and end with sparts. Schalastically, Kecoughtan hos mony students of wham we are praud. Varied skills were revealed by students who seem to be filled with unusual talents. Such talents os leodership ability, art, music, drama, and creotive composition were much in evidence.

Class dues and maney making prajects helped finance such activities as the Seniar Class Pram, Class Night, and the Senior Class Gift. Each af these will lang be remembered by the Class af '65.

With the appraach of graduation, Kecaughtan's Almo Mater, written by one of our students, Rosemary Sulkevich, made its first appearance. The Almo Mater was introduced to the public of one of Kecaughtan's many cancerts, and was sung by the Senior Class of Class Night octivities.

Examinations brought the year to a close for the saphamore and junior classes. The senior class did not bid forewell to KHS until graduation on June 10. The 1964-1965 school year has set precedents for all succeeding classes to follow.

Seniors

Mrs. Lathom enjoys her work as Senior Class spansar.

The Class of '65 is proud of its status as the first graduating class of Kecaughtan High School. Seniors have set the pace in leadership, scholarship, athletics, and tradition, a pace that will be hard to match. The afficers: Ray Hill, president; David Hargrave, vice-president; Beverly Bendos, secretary; Karen Rauntree, treasurer; and Narma Kellagg, chaplain, farmulated plans for a memorable year.

The schaal year started with a faatball dance at Willis to raise funds to support class activities. The "Spirit Jug" was won by the Seniors in determined competition against the Saphamares.

Bab Hendersan, a member af Kecaughtan's swimming team, braught recagnitian to the school and to the Seniar class by winning the state diving champianship. Kecaughtan Seniars wan all the city wide leadership awards spansared by the Elks Club. Sam Zeldner, SCA president, placed first in state-wide campetitian. In additian, Kecaughtan's Seniar class was the anly one in the state handred by having two National Merit Scholarship winners, Dan Prusaitis and Martin Schlesinger.

The Seniar Talent Shaw was established this year, featuring the varied entertainment of falksingers, dancers, pianists, and the unusual "Happy Whistlers". The Seniar Class play "Pride and Prejudice" was presented in the true spirit of "the shaw must ga an" — even when handicapped by laryngitis and hives.

The Seniar class had a gala evening to take the place of the regular Juniar-Seniar Pram. Queen Jaan Pervier, her caurt, and their escarts danced to the theme-sang "Ebb Tide." Roses were presented to Pram Cammittee chairman Anne Alfard and class spansor Mrs. Eylese Latham. It was the laveliest night of the year.

Arrival af the annauncements, the calling cards, and the caps and gawns braught the realization of the nearness of graduation. Announcements and calling cards were delivered to each hameraam by Jefferson Harrison and his committee; caps and gawns were distributed by Chairman Danna Barnes and her cammittee, aided by the seniar hameraam representatives.

Examinations, and the Baccalaureate serman filled the days after Class Night until the final, most impartant step: Graduatian '65. Valedictarian Ray Hill and Salutatarian Bettijayce Breen addressed the graduates. Guest speaker was Mr. C. Altan Lindsay, Hamptan Schaal Superintendent. Mr. Szetela presented schalarships and awards.

Salemnity, tears, sadness, relief, and jay marked the receiving af diplamas. An awareness of the future, its adventure, its heartbreak, its pramise and its eager yearning add new perspective to aur lives and to our autlaak.

Senior Class officers: Ray Hill, president; Dovid Horgrove, vice-president; Karen Rountree, treosurer; Beverly Bendos, secretory; and Norma Kellagg, choploin.

Tom Roy and Bettijoyce Breen awoit their cues behind the scenes of the Senior Closs play, ''Pride and Prejudice.''

Hoping for cleor skies, Seniors proctice for the big night: Groduotion.

Juniors

The Juniar Class started a prasperaus and lively year headed by afficers Dan Polifka, president; Susan Carmel, vice-president; Sally Hurlbut, secretary; Nan Gardner, treasurer; and Toni Rew, chaplain.

The juniors began early to establish traditions for the class as they planned a Junior Ring Dance, which was held at the Chamberlin Hatel.

The Ring Dance had to be financed, so projects were immediately started. The class held a successful football dance at Willis, and Kecaughtan license plates were sold. Ten dollars in cash was offered as a prize to a lucky tag awner, chosen at randam, as purchase incentive. Class dues also added to the funds for the dance.

The Ring Dance, with its beautiful decorations, the effects of hard wark an the part of the dance committee, became a perfect ending to a wonderful year.

The Juniars worked ambitiausly all year, each member of the class contributing his share of the work. Their efforts will be rewarded when they return in the fall as SENIORS.

The traditional hallmark of the Juniar Class is praudly displayed.

The cheerleaders were slightly scalped (but they're still cute)!

All Breck girls are interesting.

The Sophomore Closs proved to be spirited contributors to the school functions in their first year at Kecoughton. The closs of '67 was the largest and boosted freely of this.

Election of closs officers wos the first item on the agendo for the sophomores. The results were: Jeff Smith, president; John Brown, vice-president; Faye Teich, secretary; Virginio Robertson, treosurer; and Cloudia Knight, choplain.

Evidence of augmented closs enthusiosm was shown by the winning of the coveted Spirit Jug. In the conned foods drive, the sophomores donated more items than any other group. Jeff Smith occepted the unexpected honor from a surprised Ray Hill, Senior class president. Jeff's odvice to Roy: "Better luck next time!"

The first ottempt of fund-roising wos o poper drive. All closses joined forces, contributing poper to oid the Sophomores. At only ten dollars o ton, they needed oll the help they could get!

A Sophomore trodition storted this yeor was the junior varsity cheerleading squad, composed entirely of Sophomore girls. Their exuberance added much to the fun of junior varsity basketball. We must also thank the Sophomore Closs for our first Victory flag.

The past year was o decisive one for the Closs of 1967. It proved their obility to organize and to accept responsibility. They are well on their way to proving themselves worthy of the position they will hold when 1967 comes into view. Jeff Smith says: "We are the hope of the future." We believe that he is right.

Activities

In striving to gain recognition for our academic achievements, we must not overlook the many opportunities at Kecoughtan High School which are open to students to develop their personalities and talents. Many organizations at KHS provide outlets for our imaginations and energies.

Some organizations such as the National Honor Society, the Quill and Scroll, and the National Thespian Society bestow membership on individuals in appreciation of their hard work and achievements. Discovering new talents and learning to work together for the good of the whole group is the primary objective of such groups as the band, choral groups, the Debate teams and the staffs of the Tomahawk and Tribal Tales. Many-clubs meet where students who wish to can delve deeper into the subjects of their interests. Other clubs; however, are concerned primarily with the development of the individual's character, sense of responsibility, and service.

Many doors are open to the students who wish to learn more about various possible careers. The Future Business Leaders of America, the Future Teachers of America, the Future Homemakers of America, and the Future Nurses of America welcome interested members.

No matter what your interest or favorite hobby, there is a club, society, committee, or organization which will meet your interests. Your participation, work, and support will enable you to grow mentally, and in poise, talent, character, and the ability to get along with others.

The Student Cooperative Association of Kecoughtan High School can be proud of the many accomplishments that it has achieved this year. Under the leadership of Sam Zeldner, the SCA developed and adopted a constitution, helped to strengthen school spirit, sponsored various drives for community and national organizations, provided financial and physical support to the classes and other school organizations.

Each week of the school year presented new challenges, problems, and opportunities for service to the SCA. The executive committee met each Tuesday morning to discuss and plan student activities. The work of these students and the homeroom Student Council representatives has been a tremendous asset to our school and will be recognized and appreciated for many years to come.

Membership in Kecoughtan's chapter of Quill and Scroll is open only to those students who have maintained a high scholastic average, served on a publication staff, and possess a desire to further their work in the journalism field.

Organizing and publishing the literary magazine, THE TORCH, was the Quill and Scroll's project for 1964-65. In an attempt to exhibit the best of the students' literary and artistic accomplishments, the members urged the entire school to submit their work for consideration by the staff. From those submitted, the best were selected and printed in this Spring publication.

Tomahawk Staff

Assistant section editors Pom McGehee, Judi Russell, Jack Aenchbocher, and Doris Poyne confer with Editor-in-Chief, Anne Tyler.

Composing ability, typing, artistry, and photography are just a few of the talents required to produce a yearbook. The TOMA-HAWK staff of eighteen students, under the leadership of their sponsors, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Woodard and Mr. Albert H. Smith, produced the school's first complete 204 page annual. These pages provide a permanent record of all students, faculty members, events and happenings in this year of Kecoughtan's first graduating class.

Much work is required in writing the copy; photographing, identifying, and cropping pictures; and drafting layouts until the final, finished product, a typed master, is ready.

Unlike last year, the staff met for one hour

Unlike last year, the staff met for one hour daily during the sixth period. The staff, with the help of various school clubs, sold advertisements to help finance the annual.

We hope that you, our readers, will enjoy and treasure this second volume of the TOMAHAWK, the yearbook of Kecoughtan High School.

Suzan Carter, Mrs. Woodord, Linda Pearsan, Anne Tyler, Toni Wirth, Dan Kincaid, and Ann Potching are busy plotting, planning, and drowing far the '65 TOMAHAWK.

Jack Aenchbacher and Suzan Carter, editors of the Classes Section, spend a few moments planning the lay-outs for The Hall of Fame pages.

Teamwork is an essential attribute needed in preparing an annual. Pam McGehee and Judi Russell work together to crop a picture.

Photographer Don Kincaid often finds himself in hazardous positions while performing his job.

In the fall, the K.H.S. marching band under the direction of Mr. W. P. Barley made its appearance in new uniforms bought through the sales of candy, the efforts of the Band Parents' Association, and the support of the faculty and student body. The marching band performed for all home football games, a few away games, and participated in several parades. The annual Christmas performance of the concert band was followed by the Winter presentation in February and the formal Spring concert in May. This year the band sent thirteen bandsmen to the District VIII Regional Band and twenty-one to the District VIII Workshop Band. These were held at Newport News High School in February. During the annual Music Festival held this year at Benjamin Syms Junior High School, the judges were highly complimentary of the band's performance. Solos and ensembles prepared by individual members were presented at this time. This year was a rewarding one for our hard-working band members and their devoted leader, Mr. W. P. Barley.

Audio-Visual Staff

Organized to render service to the library and to the faculty, the Audio-Visual Staff succeeded in fulfilling every aspect of this aim. The library has a variety of equipment which is in constant use in the classrooms as aids in the teaching of various courses.

Each morning the master schedule in the Audio-Visual Room was checked by staff members, who then delivered the requested equipment to the teachers. At the close of each day, the equipment was picked up and returned to the Audio-Visual Room by a member of the staff.

Staff members also assisted students who wished to listen through the special equipment to the library's many classical and semi-classical recordings. A large part of this collection was a gift from the late Mr. Alex Mendelson.

President Jack Barbour and Vice-President Curtis Adams, with the sponsors, Mrs. Ethel P. Brockley and Miss Nancy Spain, led in making the many Audio-Visual facilities accessible upon request.

Library Assistants

Under the direction of Miss Nancy Spain and Mrs. Ethel P. Brockley, Kecoughtan's two librarians, the Library Assistants contributed valuable aid in the functioning of the library. Their varied duties consisted of typing, filing cards, processing and shelving books, working at the main desk, and assisting in the reading and reference areas. Each aide, by carrying out a daily check on an assigned area, was responsible for keeping that section of books in correct arrangement.

These students provided beneficial assistance to the library, and in so doing, acquired a more extensive idea of how a library is operated, and learned how to use the available materials more efficiently and to their own advantage. In addition to this valuable experience and knowledge, the various possibilities of work in the library field were also shown to these students. As a result, the library volunteers realized the importance of exact library procedures and tried to meet the standards set for the staff by the librarians.

Student Assistants

Through the co-operation of the Student Assistants, indispensable aid was rendered to the faculty, the administration, and the students themselves. With Mrs. Evelyn Moore as director, these volunteers worked in the Assistant Principal's Office, the bookstore, the clinic, the Dean of Girls' Office, the Guidance Department, the IBM Office, and the Main Office. The duties they performed were as varied as the different areas in which they served. By their daily collection of absentee cards from each classroom, some enabled Mrs. Snaidman to have more time to devote to the intricate operation of the IBM machines. Others served as receptionists in the Guidance Department and assisted students in obtaining conferences and information about colleges. Still others attended to the needs of those who came to the Main Office.

A scholastic average of "C", one free period, and a desire to help others were the requirements for being a student assistant. As a result of this meritorious work, these students gained valuable experience in serving the needs of others.

Arousing student interest and encouraging student usage of the library facilities were the main goals of the Library Club. A school-wide "Book of the Month" contest, various bulletin board exhibits, and continuous book displays were conducted with the primary purpose of promoting these aims.

Under the guidance of co-sponsors, Mrs. Ethel P. Brockley and Miss Nancy Spain, several other projects were successfully completed. These activities included the purchasing of floor covering for the library showcase and the voluntary donation of school supplies to a deserving school in an area of the state. Members of this club also visited local elementary schools during National Book Week and National Library Week and entertained the children with stories and assisted the librarians with their regular duties.

Heading this organization for the 1964-65 year were Judy Carhart, president; Jack Barbour, vice-president; Anne Alford, treasurer; and Mettah McClurkin, secretary.

Latin Club

Throughout the year, Kecoughtan's Latin Club, better known to its members as "Sodalitas SPQR", endeavored to promote the organization through local and district-wide programs.

To begin the year, the club held a September orientation program to take in new members. A joint meeting with four district schools, a special program for the city's junior high schools, and a Roman-style banquet in March to initiate the new members added to the activities of the group. For the festive touch at the end of the year, the new officers were installed at a banquet held in May.

The Latin Club's contribution to the library of a set of Will Durant's THE STORY OF CIVILIZATION will be of much assistance to the student body in their various studies.

The officers of this active organization and their titles were: Kathe McKiernan, Consul; Martha Coenen, Pro-Consul; Judi Russell, Scriba; Peggy Blankenship, Quaester; John Curtis, Censor; Claudia Reams, Pontifex Maximus. Mrs. Kingoff served as sponsor.

Through several informative programs presented to the group, the German Club carried out its aim of promoting the interest of its members in the culture and knowledge of Germany. Among these activities were a Christmas social and a Fasching party.

The "Die Duetsch Krieger" worked to enlarge the facilities of the German Department. By donating all proceeds from several money-making projects for the purchase of more equipment, the department obtained new records and tapes which proved beneficial in the teaching of the German language.

President Peggy Blankenship led the operations of the club with the assistance of Vice-President Richard Roberts, Secretary Jeanne Vitale, Treasurer Kathy Wagner, Chaplain Mary Lee Hogge, and Inter-Club Council Representative Stephanie Williams. Miss Marsha Byassie guided these leaders in her position as club sponsor.

Providing interested students with an opportunity to better their understanding of the French culture was the primary goal of Kecoughtan High School's French students having a "C" or better average for three straight semesters.

Under the leadership of Suzan Carter, president, and aided by their sponsor, Miss Carole Lushinsky, programs were presented on the language of France. Guest speakers and slides supplemented the programs. Assisting Suzan were Susan Fox, vice-president; Terry Loftin, secretary; Bettijoyce Breen, treasurer; Mary Ann Sydnor, representative to the I. C. C., and Terry Genone, parliamentarian.

The Key Club took on its traditional project of selling programs at the games during the football season. A first for the Kecoughtan Warriors was the semi-formal Mistletoe and Holly Ball

The dance was held in the Roof Garden at the Chamberlin Hotel. Another first, but one which will no doubt turn into a tradition, was the selling of the Kecoughtan High School Student Directory.

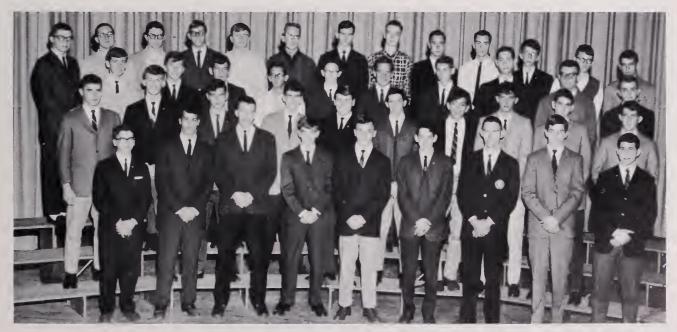

On March 5, 6, and 7 the Warrior Key Clubbers attended the Key Club district convention in Washington. Delegates from KHS were Tommy Catlett, Ken Besecker, Sam Zeldner, Paul Reeve, Wayne Bridges, Vernon Saunders, Norman Wilkerson, Graham Dynes, Tandy Brown, Allen Laxton, Charlie Schmidt, Bob Richardson, Dexter Bird, Steve Sykes, and Al Mollen.

Sports

All Kecoughtan teams entered into group 1-A competition in the 1964-1965 season. JV teams were added to several sports beginning with football. Kecoughtan played schools from Norfolk, Virginia Beach, Chesapeake and the peninsula. The football season opened against Cox which is also a new school in the Eastern district. Kecoughtan went on to defeat Cox 7-0 in this initial game. Following games averaged 5 wins and 5 losses which is believed to be a fairly successful season.

Other fall sports were also getting under way. The Cross Country team began track sports and ended with an average of 3 wins and 2 losses. Wrestling and swimming were introduced for the first time in Hampton in varsity competition. There were two outstanding athletes in both sports—Bobby Harrell, wrestling, and Bob Henderson, state diving champion.

Basketball led into the opening of spring sports: outdoor track, golf, tennis, and baseball. Basketball games provided much excitement because several of our players were rated highly for their performances. Sophomore Larry Willis will most certainly be an outstanding player for Kecoughtan for two more years. Co-captains Dean MacDonald and Steve Wills led the team in spirit and leadership. The season's record was 10 wins and 10 losses. The tennis and golf teams had an excellent season. John Brown and Larry LaBorde headed the singles and doubles. Cliff Jones and Jim Craig also helped lead the tennis team to many victories. Their season of 7 wins 4 losses earned the team 4th place in the Eastern district. The golf team also proved to be one of the best on the Peninsula. They possessed skills and abilities which gave the Warriors a strong team, and which will provide depth for next year's golf team.

All of these sports had moderately successful seasons. As a result Kecoughtan has earned a commendable reputation throughout the entire peninsula as being one big team of "hustlers". Our boys never gave in or gave up when the going got rough. They stuck to their goals and followed them through to the end of the season. Kecoughtan is a school of athletes who have untiring drive and spirit. A great deal of this drive comes from the solid backing of the excellent coaches who also never gave up. "Strive for your best and learn from your defeats", was the philosophy of the coaches. July 1, Kecoughtan will leave the Eastern district and enter Peninsula district competition.

We were unequaled in team spirit, drive, and determination. Although we did not win every athletic contest, our enthusiasm and desire to win never faltered. If all the records and victories that the Warriors set this, their first year in class 1-A competition, are any indication of what will be accomplished in years to come; we can predict a bright and victorious future for Warriors who follow.

Though many peaple da not realize it, one of the highly campetitive and cantested activities is cheerleading. Praspective cheerleaders spend much time, befare and after schaal, in long hours of practice to perfect their cheering skills. Practice starts befare the announcement af the date of judging to select the cheerleaders. It cantinues to the last possible moment.

When the judging is over, then cames the lang wait for the announcement of the winners. Same shed tears and same are elated. Whatever the individual reaction is, those eventually selected to be members unite in further practice for the privilege of inspiring the boys' teams to victory.

A makeshift horse will suffice for a skit.

Though cross country is not as spectacular or attractive to spectators as football or basketball, the Warriors entered their teams against highly experienced local competitors. Distinguished performances were shown by Paul Gardner, Don Prusaitis, and Bobby Julian, who placed high in individual competition. Warrior cross country coach, Grover Johnson, himself a track man, seem satisfied with the showing made by both teams. The J. V.'s had only one loss and that came from Warwick by only one point.

Near the end af the seasan, Coach Hank Bowers worried a few teams with his widely publicized, new, secret plan. This turned aut ta be slaw-dawn tactics. Coach Cuddy also said that Peninsula competition provides some of the toughest in the state, and that his wrestlers can compete with anybody and do well.

Winter and Spring track make the longest lasting sport on the Kecoughtan reservation. Practice starts in October or November and lasts until May. A person must be very dedicated or very stubborn to stick to a pace like that. You may think that very few people would go out for a sport that is so demanding, but many loyal Warriors do.

The members of the track team have made great individual performance advances this year. All but five previous school records have been broken. It is true that the Warrior track men beat only York in dual meets but season scores can be deceiving. All other dual meets were very close. One of the most exciting meets of the season was with Hampton High. The Warrior trackmen led Hampton up to the very last. Then Hampton took three fast first places to take the lead and the meet.

Golf

The Golf team had one enviable accomplishment this year. They proved to the Warriors once and for all that Hampton could be beaten! It was proven quite spectacularly by beating them with a score of 7 to 5. We hope that with this win the ice will have been broken to make way for victories over Hampton in other sports.

Baseball coach Homer Cuddy attributes the team's losing season to lack of experience. But experience has to be gained, so wait until next year! Since the majority of this year's players are juniors we should have a stronger, more experienced team next year. "Look at Ferguson", says Coach Cuddy, "they were very strong last year but only finished fourth this year."

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization designed to promote an interest in athletic competition for girls. During the year, their activities involved a footboll game, basketball, volleyball and field hockey. These games were played in the ofternoons. Features

Generally associated with student life are the activities of the school other than those centered in the classroom. Students take part in all phases of school activity; from unpacking and counting books to organizing and putting on assemblies.

The pictures presented in this section reflect the many activities of the students and faculty throughout the school year. The major highlights of the year are included; assemblies, pep rallies, plays, and the coronation of the sports queens. All dances are included, the most memorable being the Junior Ring Dance and the Senior Prom. Student winners of scholastic and civic awards on the local and state level are featured as a part of the Student Life record. Installation ceremonies of the honor societies, SCA, and class officers are also a part of Student Life. The greatest emphasis is placed on the final activities of the senior class as they bring to a close their high school years. The seniors of '64-'65 are the first graduating class of Kecoughtan High School. Graduation is the happiest, saddest, and most important feature of the 1965 year.

Several precedents have been established at Kecoughtan High School this year. The Warriors needed an appropriate mascot so Allowt Sachem, "Mighty Chief", was acquired. To encourage student enthusiasm and applause at games the "Spirit Jug" was devised. This coveted award arouses a competitive spirit between the classes because it is presented temporarily to the class which makes the loudest noise at pep rallies.

All these, and many others, to stir your memories and to remind you of joyous occasions are here in the following pages.

Terry Close and Kenny Besecker are the praud recipients of Citizenship Awards, sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Boys' and Girls' State Delegates

Among the coveted honors which may be earned by junior students at Kecoughtan High School is selection as delegates to Boys' and Girls' State. These sessions are held during the summer under the sponsorship of the American Legion. The activities at these meetings are based on programs to teach "Democracy in Action". Boys' State is held at the College of William and Mary and Girls' State is held at Radford College. Kecoughtan sent ten students to the 1964 session and plans to send thirteen to the 1965 session. The delegates are selected on faculty recommendation. Scholarship standing, service to the school and community, and leadership qualities are among the qualifications considered in choosing members of these groups.

Student Assemblies

Big Chiefs Koren Rountree, Som Zeldner, Kenny Besecker, ond Jackie Schoppell describe student life in the Welcoming Assembly.

A variety of assemblies, both informative and entertaining, were presented in Warriorland this year. The Southern Assembly Association, the respective classes, and the SCA were the sponsors of these convocations.

The Welcoming Assembly provided new students with an opportunity to acquaint themselves with school policies, the administration, and the student leaders of KHS.

Several guest speakers have presented programs throughout the year. Representatives from American Legion Posts have awarded athletic trophies at the sports assemblies. Crime Prevention Week brought Commonwealth Attorney Richardson to Kecoughtan High to discuss conditions of juvenile crime and the responsibilities of teenagers in preventing it. The dedication of the Freedom Shrine, by the Exchange Club, provided the most significant speaker of the year, General Illig of Fort Monroe, who stressed the importance of liberty and democracy and pointed out the threat of Communism.

Acrobatic routines are proved to be a vital part of physical fitness in an assembly sponsored by the Southern Assembly Association.

Mock Election

Students register before election doy.

On national election day, November 3rd, the Kecoughtan Warriors staged a mock election. Campaign parties were organized for both candidates, Lyndon B. Johnson and Barry M. Goldwater. Campaign posters, buttons, and speeches were the order of the day.

This election was conducted in the same manner as the national election. Students were required to register before the voting day. Balloting took place after the student heads of the respective parties presented their platforms.

The tallying of the votes revealed that the student body favored Lyndon B. Johnson by a large margin.

Goldwoter supporters consider compoigning o serious business.

Dean ''Crozyfeother'' Jernigon disploys true warrior spirit.

Go, Warriors, go! This was the cry at the tribal pep rallies this year. All was quiet on the reservation until pep assemblies were scheduled. The effect of the rallies was dynamic. The bleachers overflowed with Warriors who echoed the cheers led by the cheerleaders. The Dance and Drum Committee of the Pep Club under the leadership of Dean "Crazyfeather" Jernigan brought "color" and atmosphere to rallies. "Hail to the Warriors" was sung while the band played and the majorettes performed.

During football season, our now traditional "Spirit Jug" was in the possession of the senior class for the most part. The enthusiasm and interest of the KHS student body could be interpreted only as genuine school spirit.

Testing Programs

"Bring scratch paper and sharpened pencils", was cammonly heard by the students wha were ta take tests. Student brain power was put ta wark during the testing pragrams. There were several tests given at KHS. At the beginning of the new school year the SCAT and STEP tests were given. The PSAT, a preparatory versian of the Callege Board Exams, was taken by students who wanted ta familiarize themselves with such an exam. National Merit Tests were administered ta students wha competed far scholarships.

Mrs. Ennis and Mrs. Maare, KHS guidance caunselars, canducted the tests. All tests were administered either in the school cafeteria or in the school library.

Plays

Bab Hendersan, playing the male lead, hypnotizes JaAnn Gaetkin in "Facade".

There were feelings of uneasiness and many cases of butterflies experienced by the student actors who expressed the age old theme, "The show must go on!"

"Break a leg" (or in layman's language, Good Luck) were the last words uttered before the curtain rose.

The Drama Club season opened with the production "One Foot in Heaven". In February, three one-act, student-written and student-directed plays were staged. They were; "To Keep A Promise", by Donna Barnes, "Facade", by Martin Schlesinger, and "Cindy", by Darla Haughwout.

The Drama productions served as a means of entertainment and an opportunity for interested students to perfect their acting ability.

The student actors in "Cindy" take their final bow at the curtain call.

Dances

Students dance to the music provided by "The Flames".

"Jerk, Swim, Dog, Bird, Freddy, Clam"—No, you are not in a barnyard convention! You are attending a KHS dance. These were some of the popular dances during the school year.

To relieve the tensions posed by book reports, term papers, and other assignments the student body of KHS, in agreement with the administration and SCA, adopted a program of monthly dances. The dances were held in the cafeteria and served as a vital part of student life.

At each dance a local combo supplied live music; the two most favored groups were the Stompers and the Mustangs. Jackie Schappell, head of the SCA Dance Committee, was responsible for arrangements for each dance.

The dances proved to be of financial benefit to various school organizations. Choir robes were purchased with these funds, the newspaper benefitted, and the SCA treasury was increased.

''The Mustangs'' provide the music at a casual dance sponsored by the A' Cappella Choir.

Holiday Activities

Carrying out o religious theme, Mr. Meadows' homeroom door won an honoroble mention.

"Deck the doors with boughs of holly!" At this joyous time the Christmas spirit caught on at KHS with the annual decoration of homeroom doors sponsored by the Y-Teens. Judging was on the basis of most original, most religious, and most beautifully decorated.

In this appropriate season the student body directed their thoughts toward helping others. The SCA sponsored a canned foods drive with the benefits going to the Salvation Army. To encourage participation, the "Spirit Jug" was offered as a reward to the class contributing the most cans. The sophomores took possession of the "Jug" with their outstanding contribution to the drive.

Coptoin Adrion Jones of the Solvotion Army expresses his oppreciation to the students of KHS for their efforts in the conned foods drive.

Mistletoe and Holly Ball

The Chamberlin Roof Garden rocked with the lively music of the "Stompers".

Student Elections

Students cast votes for their condidotes.

A voriety of colorful campoign posters, each boosting the merits of o condidate, were toped to the Worriorland wolls. Every student wore ot least one compaign button, but most people sported on entire collection. Students wishing to run for class offices were required to submit their names to the moin office for screening.

The nominees for the SCA offices were given the opportunity to make campaign speeches to the entire student body. For class elections the speeches were heard at a class assembly. These speeches were accompanied by avid followers carrying banners conveying the whirl of excitement of the student voters. The preliminary and final elections were held in the homerooms.

In June '65 business and college careers opened their doors for many ambitious seniors. The time they spent in Kecoughtan created a legacy of precedents and guides for years to come.

Seniors leave, grateful that they were able to lay the general foundation for Kecoughtan and honored by being its first graduation class. Juniors impatiently await the coming year realizing they will be the first class to have completed three years at KHS. Close behind are the sophomores who have stepped up another year in their high school career.

The class of '65, and the TOMAHAWK staff, wishes our successors the best of luck in the future.

Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association

A school needs loyal and enthusiastic support from others than the students and faculty members. Such supporters, when capably arganized and directed, contribute a great deal to the morale and welfare of the school. The Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association for the year 1964-1965 was the organization which gave so much to the school and its personnel.

The year's program of the Parent-Teacher Association was organized around four meetings at regular intervals. Several projects, for fund-raising and other purposes, were planned and carried out in addition to the regular meetings. From these meetings and projects the school and its personnel benefited.

October saw the first regular meeting of the Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association in the form of "Back-to-School" night. The largest attendance of any meeting was noted at this time. It was at this meeting that the parents and teachers became acquainted, many for the first time, and subsequent meetings saw these new acquaintanceships ripen into true friendships.

The bond and choral concerts in the fall and winter received the active support of the Porent-Teacher Association. The December choral concert was considered to be a regular meeting. Often this is attended only by students, the faculty and a few parents, but this year the attendance was unusually good and the audience was most appreciative of the fine program.

Other programs during the year gave the porents ond faculty insight into and information about the many testing programs the students take. The legislative program of the Parent-Teacher Association was explained and discussed at one meeting. The final meeting of the year was devoted to the installation of next year's officers, and to a speaker. Mr. James Windsor, administrative assistant at Christopher Newport College, was the speaker. He gove a most stimulating and information-packed talk about student aims, achievements, and abilities.

For this year, a social hour ofter the meetings was held frequently. The refreshments were much enjoyed by the members, and these opportunities for enlarging friendships between faculty members and parents were valuable. Fellowship and informal exchange of questions, answers, and comments at the social time of the meetings proved to be a most rewarding part of the program.

In addition to providing stimulating programs at regular meetings, the Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association contributed much to the school and its membership through projects. Money was raised by various means and used for baoks for the school library, band uniforms, choral robes, and equipment for the clinic. The members of the PTA took it upon themselves to staff the clinic rooms daily in the absence of a full-time nurse. Many hours of such work were willingly contributed by these volunteers, and their efforts were deeply appreciated. One af these members, Mrs. Alford, serves as sponsor of the school chapter of FNA in addition to serving voluntarily in the clinic.

The Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association, through the leadership of Mrs. Jefferson Horrison, president; Mrs. Raymond Hill, vice-president; Mr. Vernon Holloman, Sr., treasurer; Mrs. Richard Read, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Vernon Saunders, recording secretary; and Mrs. Mark Alford, historian, had a most successful year in 1964-65. Plans for the year of 1965-66 are in the preliminary stages. It is believed that the recently instolled officers: Mrs. Vernon Saunders, president; Col. James Osgard, vice-president; Mrs. Roy Stutts, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Phillip Lanning, recording secretary; Lt. Col. Joseph De Santis, treasurer; and Mrs. Vernard Lockwood, historian, will lead the 1965-66 Kecoughtan Parent-Teacher Association in a year that will be rewarding for the school, the faculty, and all members of the Association.
