Visitors of Lake Cumberland have many recreational opportunities available, including fishing, boating, hunting, and camping to name a few. Lake Cumberland, located in south central Kentucky, near Somerset, was authorized by the Flood Control Act of 1946. Construction of the project, under the supervision of the Corps of Engineers, began in August 1941 and was completed in 1952 after a three year delay due to World War II. For more information about the opportunities it affords, contact the Resource Manager's office, the Resource Manager's office, located on Boat Dock Road, approximately four miles south of Somerset on Highway 27. The phone number is 606 679-6337.

Normal summer elevation of Lake Cumberland is 723 feet above mean sea level. At this level, the shoreline is 1,255 miles

This map is based on USGS topographic survey data, and contour lines show elevation inside the key not depth. To find depth, subtract the elevation figure from the shoreine elevation of 723 feet. All elevations are noted at normal summer elevation and are subject to change as the lake level fluctuates.
